WORK-BASED LEARNING IN CLINICAL SETTINGS

Quote AFVC12 to save 15% when ordering

This ground-breaking book brings together the work of pioneering scholars of learning and is unique in providing a detailed account of socio-cultural theory in relation to clinical education.

It enables professionals to:

- Produce high quality research by participating and engaging in vital discussions
- Understand socio-cultural theory in an accessible way with advanced analysis
- Use case study examples that enhance practical application and understanding of key socio-cultural theories

Each chapter focuses on a distinct issue and follows a clear structure to present an extended case-based presentation of the research that explains the:

- Architecture of the concept or theory
- Application of the concept/theory to clinical education
- Methodological approaches used as well as the implications and limitations
- Understanding of the workplace clinical learning that emerged as a result of the research

It is an essential resource for professionals in clinical education, healthcare policy makers and shapers, and postgraduate students who will find the thorough, innovative research enlightening.

Get more from your books – sign up to Radcliffe’s free ezines at www.radcliffeepublishing.com/ezines.htm
Work-Based Learning In Clinical Settings - Insights From Socio-Cultural Perspectives

CONTENTS: • Re-imagining ‘the firm’: clinical attachments as time spent in communities of practice • Learning to teach on the job: exploring the shape and significance of learning through work activity in medical settings • Assessment in natural settings in obstetrics and gynaecology: insights from a guided learning perspective • Developing a social constructivist model of nursing’s pedagogic practice using Bernstein’s educational theories • From classroom to clinic: an activity theory perspective • ‘The hidden curriculum’: learning the tacit and embodied nature of nursing practice • Learning in the operating theatre: a social semiotic perspective • Establishing patient safety nets: how Actor-Network-Theory can inform clinical education research • Ethnomethodological workplace studies and learning in clinical practice • Narrative methodology: understanding learning experiences in an online programme of professional development • Review: communication, knowing and being in work-based learning

£40.00 | £34.00
2012 | 248 pages | Paperback
ISBN-13-9781846194955